Once again thank you for that very short powerful message. I will continue to hold on to the word of God in Habakkuk 3:17 "though the tree may not flourish...yet I will rejoice, I will joy in the God of my salvation. He has made my feet like the hind's feet. God indeed is not a man or the son of man to repent of His words. I will continue to wait till all His words and promises are accomplished in my life. Maranatha!

This is a good one. Do you address officiating ministers who have a business to offer hope to their congregation? I think not, though they can learn to be more diplomatic to deliver the message which they have been sent Christ died for the ungodly that we may be reconciled to God. It is a hard job, to avoid kicking a person who is already down. I think yours is rather a call for us to shine in God's glory in our living, lest in our death, the self-consolation by our loved ones' ring hollow before God, and sometimes before man. You know in bereavement, we all seek the comfort that is reserved for Christians, and why not – when the label Christian is not a clear distinguishing factor in today's world. Anyway, who can tell what the label glory means? May the Lord help us.

First Man: What can your wealth do for you now that you are lost in the woods. The animals will eat you up

Second Man: Someone will look for me because I am very rich.

First Man: I know that no search party will be sent out to look for us because nobody knows we are lost.

Second Man: I am very sure someone will look for me.

First Man: There is no way we can get back home since we did not inform anyone before we came out here

"Two friends went out to the woods for an adventure. After awhile they got lost. Fear started to mount because they did not know how to get back home. One of them is a Christian so he was certain that God would send someone to look for him.

Here is a story for you: Our pastor sometimes gives a story before he delivers the sermon for the day. Here is one of them, though paraphrased.

Thank you for your inspirational mail, straight from the heart. Amazing isn't it? It is another matter when these issues are the case with His own children.

Just to share a thought from fellowship today--I am still thinking of it. It is the fact that the children of Israel went into the Red Sea under pressure (the army of Pharaoh was right behind them), but they entered the Jordan by their own free will. His calls for us nowadays bear the marks of a willing death, but that is the only way to our spiritual, (and many times, physical) inheritance!!

Somehow, I've been reaching out to people with your messages, and I guess the creativity aspect help to drive the message home. The stories are too brief or too direct now, making them to look dry and strictly religion materials. You must find time for this very calling!

I don't seem to understand some games going on around me, especially when it appears certain persons very close to me are involved. Their interest, it seems, is not to assist me. That sort of using one as a ladder thing. This just like you wrote in one of the Son shine write-ups. When those one trusted turns out to be dudes. I have also discovered that maybe for lack of time, the Son Shine messages these days lack the in-depth touch of creativity. For instance the type we have in the guy who walked into an office wacking his mouth with a tooth pick.

This question is always on my mind; psychologists say at best man uses only 10% of his potential. How can he use 100% or at least 99% without having brain fog or going crazy?

How can he be the very best God created him to be?

Is it thought? prayer? study? meditation? Or, the leading of the spirit?

If it is through thinking? Thinking about what?

Right people?, right books? right music? right friends? mentors people that would challenge one

Or like different kinds of food, is it different kinds of activities?

Fresh goals? Higher degrees? More money? prayer and fasting?

“Life situations are so different in some aspects, but problems in life are everywhere.

I still can't really understand, how people can live nearly "in paradise" and be so sad that it is not possible for them to keep alive. Depression, loneliness and fears are a big problem in our society - maybe, because people have everything they need and don't know for what their life is useful. She was not alone but I think she felt very lonesome because she chose to live on her own and did not tell us how bad she felt. How can one work with all this and make other people believe the

Yes the devil never gives anything for free, the world might be on the tips of your finger as a result of the wealth you are lavishing but the irony here, is that one can never invest in something good with the gift given to you by the devil, rather, one will realize much later that he or she has wasted time under the luxury of the devil. God's gift to humanity is free, a gift that one will enjoy without doubt if He will demand for something in return, and it is up to you as an individual to decide on how you want to live your life but it will be of great joy to God and man if you live a life free of sin and use the gift given to you to touch the world positively.

Good and Insightful piece. THE TRIAL OF FAITH: We are indeed in the END times. The time to hear horrendous news. Shocking to the bone marrow! Miracles of mouth opening dimensions. Only a solid foundation in CHRIST can help in distinguishing which is godly and which is mere magic. When darkness covers the heart only the sensitive in CHRIST will see the RAYS of light to distinguish the way of the CROSS and that of PERDITION. As we await HIS COMING, there will be more drama to lure the ELECTS even to the DEN of DAMNATION. LET YOUR ANTENNA be up and working. PICK the SIGNALS correctly.

Romans 8:14 declares, "For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God." It is crystal clear that God's will for His children is to be led by His Holy Spirit so that we would not be misled into the wrong path by human ideas or philosophy. "SONSHINE" has indeed been a blessing to me. It is therefore very important that as a child of God we must be led by the Holy Spirit, trusting Him to guide us into Godliness and in the fullness of life itself.

It's indeed not the will of God for any his children to be misled. It's one of the very reasons every child of God has to be filled with the Holy Spirit and also acknowledge the In working of God's spirit in us to prepare us and build us up into the fullness of God's plan and purpose for us in accordance to Ephesians 2:22.

As I come back from church this Sunday morning June 26th 2016 and going through my email I come across "Son Shine": Barricade: Isaiah 54:15 (KJV) and read also 54:17 and when going back to the "The story of Son Shine" I stumbled across one medical Doctor from the Democratic Republic of the Congo who was the first to donate voluntarily to make herald "this good news". And I recognized that Medical Doctor and thought of few things:

1. Luke 17:10(KJV): Unprofitable servants and Our Father in Mathew 6:10: May Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven
- 2.The parable of the mustard seed: The Kingdom of God will grow and nobody will ever stop it
3. And your fidelity: Ten years have passed since 2006 when we met.
4. Tears come into my eyes just to think how a small "good" seed could go a long way and the verse in Galatians 6: 7(KJV): whatever you sow it is what you will reap.

We really are just meant to mind our business and do what we have been called to do, Gossips don't know where they are headed. This also comes down to wisdom, which is doing the right thing at the right time. The Sunday school teacher was kept there for a purpose but instead she turned from the goal. May God give us wisdom so that every other thing shall be added to us for wisdom is the principal thing.

The central truth of this article resonates with a lesson of life I have learnt. I have learnt to by the Grace of GOD and Strength from HIS Infallibility do the needful whatever that may be, regardless of whether I or on lookers fully understand what it is, what others think of it, how popular it is, the price or cost, as long as the line of action is according to GOD'S Will. In the end, when the profits accrue from the generosity of HIS Grace, the doubt and ego from myself and the small talk (or even large talk) from others will be silenced and then proclaim how great my GOD is.

Either way, I think anything and everything we do as creations of GOD, given life by HIS Breath, should give GOD glory—whether correcting in love or maintaining modest and decent appearance. Other times, I think people are too strict, stagnant, or stiff in their views of the ever-evolving world. Sometimes, I think popular culture is so retarded. The devil influences people to go in a direction that even right-thinking toddlers would logically find disturbing. Spending huge amounts of money to buy designers and brands to uncover your nakedness, deface your skin, and voluntarily and intentionally inflict pain and limitations on yourself, calling yourself belittling names—the list of sick things goes on.

I feel the only chance for persecution to succeed is to smite hard and swiftly. If you cannot strike, do not threaten. Menacing words only give courage. The rulers betrayed their hesitation when the end of their solemn conclave was but to 'straitly threaten'; and less heroic confessors than Peter and John would have disregarded the prohibition as mere wind. None the less the attitude of these two Galilean fishermen is noble and singular, when their previous cowardice is remembered. This first collision with civil authority gives, as has been already noticed, the main lines on which the relations of the Church to hostile powers have proceeded. Thanks for the motivational message God bless you and your family.

I am experiencing Him like never before, and I have this hunger and thirst for His word, which is what I have been praying for. But do you think it is normal to feel some sort of fearfulness? Despite my knowledge that I have victory over the darkness, I still fear that I may fail Him. Perhaps I still need to learn how to totally depend on Him, even for my spiritual walk...

God has control over all forces, be they in the air, sea or land. All powers belong to Him. Let the Son shine in your heart daily. "... and they said one to another, what manner of man is this: for He commanded even the winds and water, and they obey Him." - Luke 8 v 25.

The flight was delayed by two hours for what the airport ground staffs called "operational reasons." Eventually we were air borne for a flight that was to last 30 minutes. Moments before landing, the plane shook violently as it went through turbulent weather. The pilot tried to reassure fray nerves. But as the plane encountered another stream of turbulent weather, a church immediately started in the cabin. Passengers were rebuking and destroying and casting away the works of the enemy. People were pleading the Blood of Jesus against this satanic attack. Then there was calm and moments later the pilot's voice came on again, this time informing us that we cannot land because of "gusty winds blowing around the airport tarmacy." He then redirected the plane to where we landed safely to the rapturous shout of "praise the Lord" from passengers in the cabin. AND THANKS FOR THE INSPIRATION OF SON SHINE.

I wanted to ask if it is possible that these false apostles be converted while fellowshipping with genuine apostles, but then I remembered Simon the Sorcerer, who got converted in Acts but still thought he could buy the Holy Spirit with money. In 1992, while working in a company, I had a pressing desire to change my job. One week after the surge of the desire, I saw a newspaper advert. A voice spoke within me: "This is your job." I applied. I was later invited for an interview. Three weeks later, the job became mine—even without knowing anybody in the company. God gave me the job. In 1994, the company transferred me to Lagos, which was also the answer to the prayer I made in 1993 to leave the state. God truly directs the paths of His children.

Most times, God's own choice may seem off, but eventually, we love it because, in the end, it is usually wonderful. Unlike the other mails I get, I think I understand this one. Sometimes, we humans want a particular job, school, or spouse, and we ignore God's voice. Sometimes, the voice tells us what we do not want to hear or pushes us toward things we pay little or no attention to. But that is the voice of the Lord. I remember when I had to leave a university for another school—I hated the fact that my mum wanted me to leave a private school. That voice kept saying... university. I struggled with it for some time. Thank God I listened eventually. The man working on my admission duped my parents. If I had not listened, I would probably still be at home and would have given up on school.

And that reminds me of that great biblical injunction: teach us to number our days! Also I am reminded of an experience I called "The Tag". About three weeks ago, along with a few people, we had to usher a woman to the morgue after breaking the news of the death of her husband. The husband could only be identified with a paper tape bearing his name and pasted on his forehead. He was not resplendent in that wrapper on the cold metal stretcher.

Insights through the Word

The traffic gridlock appeared unfixable, as there was no sign of any space for movement time started going fast. Although the Other route didn't hold better movement, some people went for it making quick turns to a road no one knew about Within minutes however, a few cars came out from the other lane, with that some sanity, was restored till cars started moving. At the junction, a little hope turned into a lot. The traffic reduced. The movement started in minutes, the road ahead became free. The driver didn't follow the other people that opted to go through the unknown road he didn't know when it would be free but he was patient and then God made a way where some thought a way couldn't come through. The traffic stopped and he was free to go.

This passage and story talks about patience. In all things we must be patient because patience is a virtue

His work of transformation in me. The truth of that statement is obvious. Once we/I do my own part by going higher with God, I become less weighed down by the things below. It again reminded me of an earlier one which touched me too - when we know that it is God who is in real control that will be the beginning of our/my humility. From there I proceeded to the paragraph before it, appreciating once more those two verses of the Psalmist. I ascended to the one before it and It downed on me how the darkest situation or circumstance could be simply changed by the Lord Our God into a clear, smooth one all the way, just by looking up to Him - The Lord, the Hill, the maker of heaven and earth, the only One from whom our help comes. Though unplanned, this upward movement and leading, ended up connecting me with your title, UP, making it significant. Our God has much for us His people.

I had particularly been touched by the last but one sentence of the last paragraph of the 740 series and dwelt on it again, as for the last line it will always remain permanently in my heart until God completes

This stretches the reality of the saying “All that glitters is not Gold”. Only the individual wearing the shoe knows where it pinches. Social media leaves this generation craving the things of the world based on the extravagant lifestyle displayed on the Internet, thereby serving as a veil over recognition, physical gratification and a myriad of other things than we do about enlightenment, spirituality and peace in our lives. Yet, when we are satiated with the good things of life we often find ourselves feeling empty. There seems to be a void. Growing up I was made to realize that material things cannot fill up the void in a person’s life. Only a connection to God can provide ultimate peace. I thank God for his faithfulness in my life. I sing this song in my distress, and the comfort I get afterwards is overwhelming.
What a blessing to be able to come to God each day and hand over our worries and fears. With our friend, Jesus, our burdens can be lifted and our souls cleansed...Jesus is our only friend that can heal and mend the broke hearted.
Thanks for the powerful message.

Thank you for this message. This message is just talking to me because being at this level is not as easy as people say it is. It is at this level you know people's true character and those who would be there for you when you need them. Also, that's when some issues will start. coming into place and then you realize you are all alone, but I know it's a matter of time and my day of relief is coming. I accepted Jesus Christ as my Lord and Savior years ago. I'm a very shy and quiet person and I don't speak for Christ as boldly as I should. Even though I'm a believer, does the statment...Jesus will reward Christians according to the standard of their works...mean that I will still be judged by Him; and I won't be able to live in New Jerusalem with Him unless I live boldly?

I visited the website and what a revelation it turned out to be.

Thanks for this homily. I know for certain that the help of mortals is vanity; a ploy for vainglory. When God helps, He perfects it. It is interesting though, that God uses man to help those He sets apart for favor. In view of this, I pray that God will make you and your household not to miss your divine encounter with your prophetic helpers in Jesus name.

was busy stealing from the ones others have been gathering. Later on, one of them noticed that the one stealing has not been going to pick grass, but kept on weaving, so the one who noticed this pretended to have followed the birds going to pick grass but turned halfway and was looking at the one that has been staying behind to confirm its instinct. And behold, it was true. With aggression, the bird went on fighting the one that has been stealing, and when the other birds came, they destroyed the bird's nest, and the bird started rebuilding again. Nothing indeed was going to stop the fowl of the air.

I want to say thank you for the work you do on sending the Word of GOD. Although many might not see the worth and power of the good, by reason of men loving darkness rather than light and also not being in oneness with JESUS the Lord, but I now see, for I was once blind. I was a drug addict, a cultist. During my time of isolation, the ALMIGHTY GOD encountered me, healed me, filled me with His Spirit, changed my desires, that I began to love righteousness and hate evil. I stopped drugs, declared my faith to the cult members I knew and that knew me. Denounced worldliness and decided to follow JESUS wholly till death. "For to live is CHRIST and to die is gain" this is now my life. Since then The Holy Spirit helped me to gain knowledge of His Word through consistent reading and study, that I even finished the 66 books of the Bible in 7 months or less. And I haven't stopped living for God, preaching and teaching the Word since then, The Lord of lords will continue to reward you in this time and in the time to come.

Thank you for this. Every new day, we learn lessons. New or existing/old lessons. The prayers in Psalm 38:21-22 apply to me (and likely to others as well). What I face on a regular basis and on a daily basis require such prayers.

"Do not abandon me, O Lord. O my God, do not be so distant from me. Come quickly to help me, O Lord, my savior." Psalm 38:21-22 (God's Word Translation Bible).

I believe God is not going to abandon me. No matter what comes my way, He will not abandon me. If not, I would have gone (out of existence) a long time ago. I thank God for His mercies and protection over me and my entire family.

Praise the LORD. Hallelujah. Even in the ups and downs of this world, we are still surviving. It is not by strength or by our might. Not even by our wisdom, but by the Grace of Almighty GOD. HALLELUJAH.
